Business Overview

JRS Country Acres is an independently owned and operated family farm and offers:

- Cage free brown eggs –chickens are free to roam in the barn, engaging in natural habits such as running perching, roosting and laying eggs in nests. Natural lighting in the barn allows hens to enjoy sunlight. Quiet nests for laying eggs in a stress free environment.
- Eggs are usually less than 48 hours old when delivered. Eggs are washed, graded and packaged on the same day.
- No hormones, stimulants, or antibiotics.
- Superior flavor that contains less cholesterol, 25% less saturated fat, 8 grams of protein and is only 90 calories
- Excellent performance egg – high quality whites and yolks that stand up.
- Hens have unlimited access to food, feed system that tops feed every hour and automatic watering systems allow hens' unlimited constant access to clean well water.
- Locally sourced feed that is a custom vegetarian mix (corn, soybeans, wheat) and nutritiously balanced with mineral supplements. No animal fat, animal by-products or recycled food in hen feed.
- Humane treatment of all birds is the number one priority of the Tholen Family.
- Member Something Special from Wisconsin™
- Three generations working together to manage JRS Country Acres in a sustainable manner: Awarded the Green Professional designation in 2012 from the Wisconsin Sustainable Business Council in the Green Masters Program. Sustainable actions within the operation include: raising chickens in a humane manner, locally sourced packaging supplies, energy efficient lighting and equipment on the farm, comprehensive recycling program and composted manure returned to neighboring farm fields.
